SEPTEMBER & OCTOBER 2026

This October, let's stand together in support of everyone impacted by breast cancer. While there are many ways to make a difference, donating blood is one simple act that helps provide lifesaving support for patients receiving treatment. Schedule your appointment and help bring hope to those who need it most. BLOOD DRIVE LINK

When it comes to blood transfusions, matching matters. Blood type is inherited, meaning a compatible donor is often someone who shares a similar genetic background. A vibrant and varied blood supply—one that reflects the rich tapestry of our communities—helps ensure better health outcomes for all. BLOOD DRIVE LINK

TALKING POINTS

- Labor Day: Labor Day marks the unofficial end of summer, but the need for blood never takes a holiday. Holiday weekends often result in fewer blood donations while patient needs continue. By donating before or after Labor Day, you can help ensure hospitals have the blood they need.
- Childhood Cancer Awareness Month: September is Childhood Cancer Awareness Month. Children receiving cancer treatment often require blood and platelet transfusions throughout their care. Blood donors help provide hope to young patients and their families during some of their most difficult days.
- National Sickle Cell Awareness Month: September is National Sickle Cell Awareness Month. Many people living with sickle cell disease rely on regular blood transfusions throughout their lives. Consistent blood donations help ensure patients have access to the blood products they need. Every donor plays an important role in supporting patients living with chronic blood disorders.
- Rush into Donate: Football season is here—and every donor is a valuable teammate. Patients are counting on all of us to help keep the blood supply strong. Every donation is a winning play that helps save lives. Together, we can score big for our community.
- Fall: As summer turns to fall, hospital patients continue to need blood every day. Blood has a limited shelf life, making regular donations essential. Every season brings new donors, returning donors, and new opportunities to save lives.
- Breast Cancer Awareness Month: October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month. Many patients undergoing cancer treatment rely on blood and platelet transfusions during their care. Donating blood is another meaningful way to support those affected by cancer.
- Global Diversity Awareness Month: October is Global Diversity Awareness Month. A diverse donor community helps meet the needs of a diverse patient population. Every donor strengthens our community and helps ensure more patients receive the blood they need.
- Halloween: Fall schedules become busy, but patients still rely on lifesaving blood every day. Don't let the blood supply become frighteningly low. Every donation helps keep our community prepared.
